2025 WINTER LEARNING SERIES AGENDA

7:30am – 8:00am Registration
8:00 am – 8:15am Welcome, Introductions

8:15am – 9:15am Dr. Chad Rigsby, Bartlett Tree Research Laboratories. Successful Tree Planting and Establishment: An Arborist's Perspective - This presentation will provide an overview of the science behind tree planting and establishment. Many aspects of the Arboriculture and Urban Forestry industry standards in tree planting will be covered including important factors for success before, during, and after planting trees. Topics will site prep and soil management pre-planting, nursery stock selection, proper planting pit dimensions, root ball prep, staking, and aftercare.

9:20am - 10:20am Scott King, SKLCert Consulting. Are You Up To Label? - Focusing on label language, PPE, Precautionary warnings, bee language, Application equipment, target site and pests, and calibration.

10:20am – 10:30am Break

10:30pm – 11:30am Tony VanDorp, Jeff Rylaarsdam, Geoff Van Berkel – Eco Green Supply. Little Things Matter...So Understand Them - Are you understanding the little things that affect your pesticide application success and failures. With over 100 years of combined experience in turf and landscape pesticide applications, Geoff, Tony, and Jeff will help educate us on being ecological stewards of our environment, making accurate applications, and understanding the value of identifying problems before they occur and solving them when they do occur.

11:30pm – 12:15pm Lunch – provided

12:15pm – 1:15pm Scott King, SKLCert Consulting The neighbor's lawn guy strikes again - Again using label language from products in all 3 categories, but focusing on the drift precautionary language on them along with examples of drift/off target versus other causes of injury symptoms such as weather, mechanical, insect and disease, desiccation, volatilization (which is not drift), and translocation.

1:20pm – 2:20pm Dave Drzewiecki – DJ's Landscape Management - "Plant Bed Maintenance in West Michigan – Observations and lessons learned."

2:20pm – 2:30pm Break

2:30pm – 3:30pm Ryan Batz (Central Turf) -

3:30pm – 4:00pm Recertification credit recording
